The Compression and Travel Stockings are unique as they combine the properties of the unique Celliant® thread that increases blood circulation, with the compression that supports the function of the venous valves, by strengthening the return flow. The compression is 18-21mmHG, the compression is greatest in the foot / ankle and gradually reduces up the leg. Due to the comfortable Celliant® thread, they are comfortable to wear all day and keep your legs fresh. If you sit or stand a lot, without actually walking, you don't activate the venous pump, here you will also benefit from using these support stockings. Sportskompressionsstrømmerne The sports compression stockings are knitted according to the same principle as the compression and travel stockings, but with a compression of 21-25mmHG. The foot region is lined to protect the foot during extreme sports such as running etc. By using these Sports compression stockings, performance increases and a better recovery is achieved, as oxygen and nutrient supply are increased, as well as better breakdown of lactic acid.
